Have a Great Week 5!

- Good luck in the upcoming examinations Year 7, remember they are your first ones so try your best and try not to let stress get the better of you!

- Lots of students are leaving belongings around, especially on your lockers, please lock everything you own away. If it is too big for your locker drop in to Mr Tink’s office and place it in the doorway, just like the hockey kids have been doing!

- Don’t forget to thank your Tutors for the awesome job they have been doing in looking after you in this busy and exciting second term.

- With House Spec just around the corner make sure you get involved and play your part to build House spirit.

In Week 6A we will having an assembly to showcase some Year 7 students and their talents, let me know if you play an instrument, sing or have something you would like to do at our upcoming assembly.

Birthdays up to the end of Week 5; — Maggie Noonan, Caitlin Stubberfield, and Amy Reid—HAPPY BIRTHDAY

You will all receive Term 2 reports

If you are doing the right thing in terms of attitude, work or behaviour you can look forward to a good one.........if you need to adjust your attitude now is the best time to start.

iPad Rules

I thank the majority of Year 7 for your respectful use of the iPad, it is a terrific device that has made many elements of your lives easier, such as reducing the books you need and giving you lots of easily accessed information. Now the program has been running for a while we need to bring in some rules to help manage any misuse of the device that may occur. These rules come into effect now so please read them carefully,

If a student is caught playing games in class they will be issued with a detention.
If a student misuses the iPad in other ways in class, such as checking Facebook they will be issued with a detention.
If a student misuses the device more than once in class they can be issued more than one detention in that class.
If a student receives three detentions for misuse of the iPad they will be issued a Fatigue.

On the weekend of that Fatigue their iPad will be confiscated by Mr Tink for the entire weekend. Homework and other tasks are to be saved to the LMS prior to the iPad’s confiscation so that homework can be completed on a home computer. In the event this is not possible the student must catch up on that work when their iPad is returned during lunchtime in the Library.

The classroom teacher can confiscate your iPad for the duration of their class at any time if you are not using it correctly.

Thank you to the many Year 7s who use the iPad properly and have made the most of this excellent initiative in the school.
